Third Of Vets In California From Other States

Almost one third of the estimated 1,179,000 demobilized veterans in California at the end of this year will be immigrants from other states, Dr. Samuel C. May, director of the University of California Bureau of Public Administration, predicts. Dr. May bases his prediction on figures obtained for the bureau's study on postwar California, correlated with U.S. Army surveys on veterans who plan to shift residence. He finds that 11.9 percent of all men in the armed forces plan to move to some other section of the nation. Of these 40 percent desire to come to the western states, he says, adding that California will be host to 63 percent of this group. Addition of these 375,000 veterans will bring California's total labor force to almost 4,100,000 workers, Dr. May believes.

Peak Of Polio Epidemic Passed, Says Authority

Belief that the peak has been reached in the polio epidemic was expressed by Dr. Wilton L. Halverson, state director of public health. At the same time the health leader praised the work of General Hospital staff members in the handling of the cases, which stood at 237 at the weekend. In the latest 24-hour period for which figures were available 24 new patients were admitted and 25 discharged. One death from the diseases was reported.

SECURITY EMPHASIS
There is danger in overemphasizing the need for security, since there is no such thing as complete security in the world, says a University of California psychiatrist.

AIR CONDITIONED LUXURY LINERS SEEN FOR FUTURE

Two luxury liners now under construction at Alameda, Calif., the Harbin and the Albatross, will feature complete air conditioning, presage an entirely new era of comfort for ocean travelers, according to John E. Haines, vice-president of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company. Passengers on the S. S. President Cleveland and the S. S. President Wilson, to be operated in the Pacific by the American President Lines, will be able to control the temperature in their staterooms simply by adjusting thermostats similar to those used in private homes, he said. Humidity will be kept constantly at the comfort level.

AGRICULTURE ENGINEERS

Vets Urged Not To Use Original Discharge Papers

Former servicemen who expect to apply for a G. I. loan in the near future were advised today by L. C. Chapman, veterans administration Los Angeles Regional manager, not to use their original discharge or separation papers in connection with applications for terminal leave pay. Original discharge papers, Chapman said, might not be returned by the Army or Navy for a long period of time. VA requires the original papers in guaranteeing G. I. home and business loans. Servicemen were advised to submit certified or photostatic copies when applying for leave pay from the service arm to which they were attached.

Veterans Service Centers Cited By President; More Aid Revealed

An official citation from the president of the United States Monday was given to the Veterans Service Centers throughout the nation in recognition of their all out efforts in meeting the problems of returned veterans. This was announced by J. G. Caldwell, director of the Torrance Area Veteran Service Center. Caldwell revealed the thousands of veterans have passed through the local center, most of whom have been helped by his staff, while others, whose needs defy the established program of the center, have been eased none-the-less through the efforts of the director. He made clear that the VSC is at all times ready to contribute its time and effort to any veteran organization in behalf of the ex-service man or woman. Caldwell declared that he did not believe the terminal leave application, which occupies the present GI limelight, would be valid for compensation unless printed by the government printing house in Washington, D.C. Veteran organizations and the various firms now employing these vets can obtain these forms, when ready, from their local Postoffice. "In this manner, each and every one may aid in the expediting of this just claim," Caldwell said. He praised the American Legion for efforts to help the vets in applying for these claims. Filing applications for farms in the Tule Lake district, the director announced, would have to be in by Sept. 16 for consideration. Some 66 units in this sector will be open for veteran homesteading following the closing of applications.

Pre-School Health Check Is Urged

Roy O. Gilbert, M.D., Acting Los Angeles County Health Officer. From now until school opens mothers will be busy shopping for clothes, but getting children ready for school physically is even more important and attention given now to physical fitness will pay dividends long after new dresses or blue jeans are worn out. Protection from diphtheria for children under ten years of age should be started at least four weeks before school opens, as the recommended procedure calls for two immunizations four weeks or a month apart. If the child has already been immunized, booster doses should be given at least every two years. For young children a combination toxoid called diphtusis is recommended for protection against both whooping cough and diphtheria. Smallpox vaccinations should begin at nine months of age be given every five years thereafter. Kindergartners would be eligible for their second vaccination and pupils entering the sixth grade or junior high school, their third one. Special attention should be paid to eyes irritated by a summer of swimming and bright sunshine. Ears that pop and then ache when coming home from a mountain vacation or after a swim may mean an infected ear.

IRONING SLIP COVERS
While slip covers are still damp, iron just the flounces and then work the damp slip cover over the chair. This not only eliminates ironing the back and seat but produces a better fit, too.
